

Do You Need Camp Information for Summer, 2010?

Although Play Centers, Inc. will not be operating our Summer Camps this year, we invite you to visit the RESOURCES page on our website, www.playcenters.org, for links to various Summer Camp resources.

Two of these resources, Baltimore's Child and Maryland Family Magazine, are free publications and are also available in print at our Main Office, in local grocery stores, and in area libraries. Below you will find some excerpts from those publications.

In addition, a new online venture, The Ultimate Camp Guide, (www.theultimatecampguide.com) is launching in February, 2010, and will save parents hours of searching for Summer Camps for children, ages 4-18, in the Baltimore area.

(Please note that Play Centers, Inc. is not affiliated with nor endorses any of these summer programs or organizations.)

spotlight

Youth Programs / KidsCampus

Towson University's campus is an exciting environment for boys and girls, with a variety of programs designed with their needs and interests in mind. Whether your children want to learn more about science or the fine arts, hone their athletic skills or bolster their reading skills, our campus provides the resources for success.

For more information, call 410-704-KIDS.

Come to Camp MSC - Sensational Summer Science!

Choose from week-long, full-day and half-day programs. Extended care options available with early drop off and late pickup. This summer - get science!

For more information, call 410-545-2990.

The Maryland Zoo in Baltimore provides a fun-filled and educational Zoo Camp to the public. Participants experience a unique, week-long day camp that allows them to explore the natural world of animals and their habitats, right here at the Zoo.

For more information, call 443-552-5300.

Genesee Valley's Camps are perfectly paced for your child, with small groups of about 10 children and one highly-trained counselor. Activities are both fun and challenging and provide campers with memories that will last a lifetime.

For more information, call 410.343.0138.

